REPORT

The Department of Mass Media of Chandrabhan Sharma College organized an individual competition 'Best out of waste' on 7th of November, 2020 for the students of FYBAMMC, SYBAMMC and TYBMM.

Students made aware about the competition and detail information was provided to every student. It was an individual activity for the participants. Every participant student required to make a working model from waste material only. Maximum number of students participated for this activity. According to the rules participated students presented their model in given time. Students from every batch presented various models using waste materials. Students voluntarily started to explain their model and different material used to complete their final outcome. Each student got chance and time to speak on their model.

52 students participated in the event.
