!! Greetings !!

Economic Circle an active, vibrant and dynamic circle in organizing meaningful academic events for the students yet again saw a successful and eventful year. The most eventful happening this year was demonitization on November 08, 2016. And the circle had an essay competition on the subject. Such academic events boost and improve not only the interesting subject matter but also make the students aware of the happening in the country especially to the commerce students. The vibrant students of the circle as usual were keen in organizing such events and succeeded in doing so. Wishing them all the best for another fruitful year.

Message from Convener

*Prof. Bharti Sridhara
(Co - Ordinator of Commerce Dept.)*

!!! Greetings!!!

Economic Circle was formed in the year 2015. The association aims to inculcate interest among the students in Economics by holding workshops, various activities like Group Discussion, Guest lectures etc., and various competition like Elocution, Economics Quiz, Essay Writing, poster making, Coin Exhibition, What's the Economic word? etc. The topics covered in these activities and competitions are widely related to economics, politics, social, and environment at regional, national and global level. The event is a great festival for exchange of technological know how and sporting spirit. It has been our pleasure to watch students taking the initiative to participate with a high degree of improvisation each year. At Chandrabhan Sharma College we believe in all round development of our students. The college provides ample courses to the students which facilitate students with the intellectual growth and at the same will expose them to the global world. The team of well qualified, dedicated and experienced faculty is always committed to show the correct path to students. I once again welcome them with bright future

ELOCUTION COMPETITION

The Economic Circle has always set its benchmark in giving the platform to the students to sharpen their skills . The overall view of the Economic Circle to organize an Elocution Competition on the topic “Absolute Economic Equality is Neither Possible Nor Even Desirable”. was to make student realize the economic reality and understand their views on it. A large number of students participated voluntarily. The students who expressed their views on the given topic made everyone realize many changes that were needed in the economy. It was noticed by the judges that the participants fearlessly expressed their views on the topic which gave a positive response from the audience listening to them. The judges for the event were #Dr. Gopal Kalkoti (Head of department for Nagindas Khandwala College) and Second Judge # Dr. N. Rajlaxmi (Principal of Nirmala Memorial College of Commerce).

They were all happy to see such courageous & enthusiastic participation. The participants were given suggestions and the things they could add in their topic by the judges. The winners were awarded with the certificates and student friendly prizes. The Chairperson Dr. Chitra Natarajan and the Convener Prof. Bharti Sridhara congratulated the winners and thanked all the participants for their efforts and wonderful contribution at the event . The event was concluded with National Anthem.

Poster Making

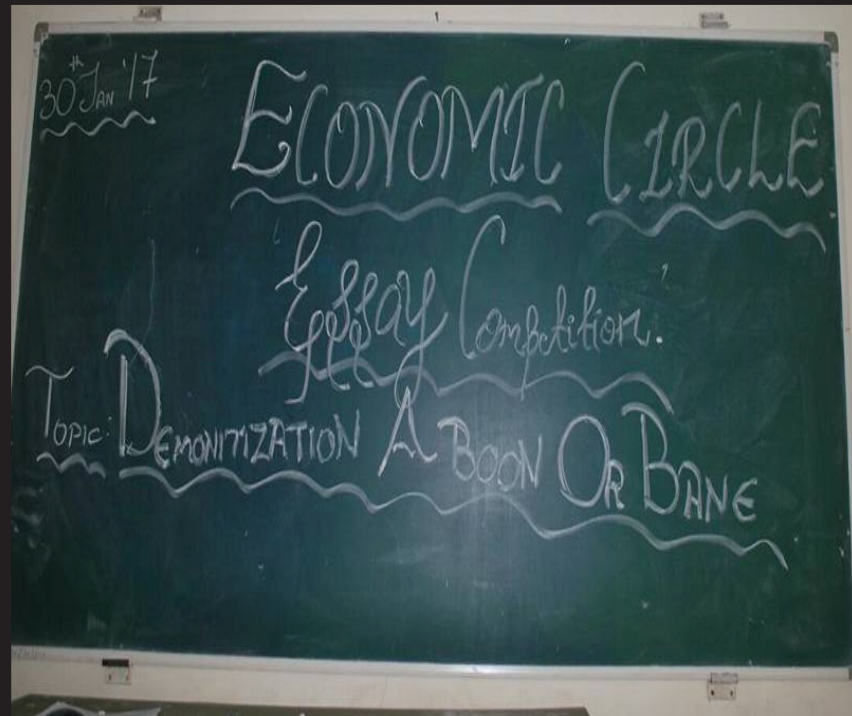

Poster Making

Once again, the Economic Circle setup its young ignited minds and decided to organize an poster making event for the students of Chandrabhan Sharma College on 30th September, 2016. The event was setup so that the students could understand the depth of economic related issues through posters and express their thoughts in them on the given topics. The Circle had given topics to the participants of the event which were as follows: "Population Explosion, Indian Growth Story 2000 Onwards, Effects Of FDI on Various Indian Sector, Strength Of Dollars v/s Indian rupees and Contribution of Rural Sector to GDP Growth." The response of 25 entries for the event were received with Posters depicting the topic in wonderful manner. The judge of the event was Ms. Mrunali Ravelekar (Asst. Prof. at KPB Hinduja College).

A positive comment was received from the judges towards all the participants also very meaningful speech was conveyed to the students which termed to be very helpful in their future. The winners of the event were 1st Prize was taken by Fy.BMM Student Mr. Darshan Bhanusali. They were awarded with special certificates and cash prizes. The faculty members of the college also viewed the poster presented by participants. The Circle has planned some more events for the current year and will soon commence it.

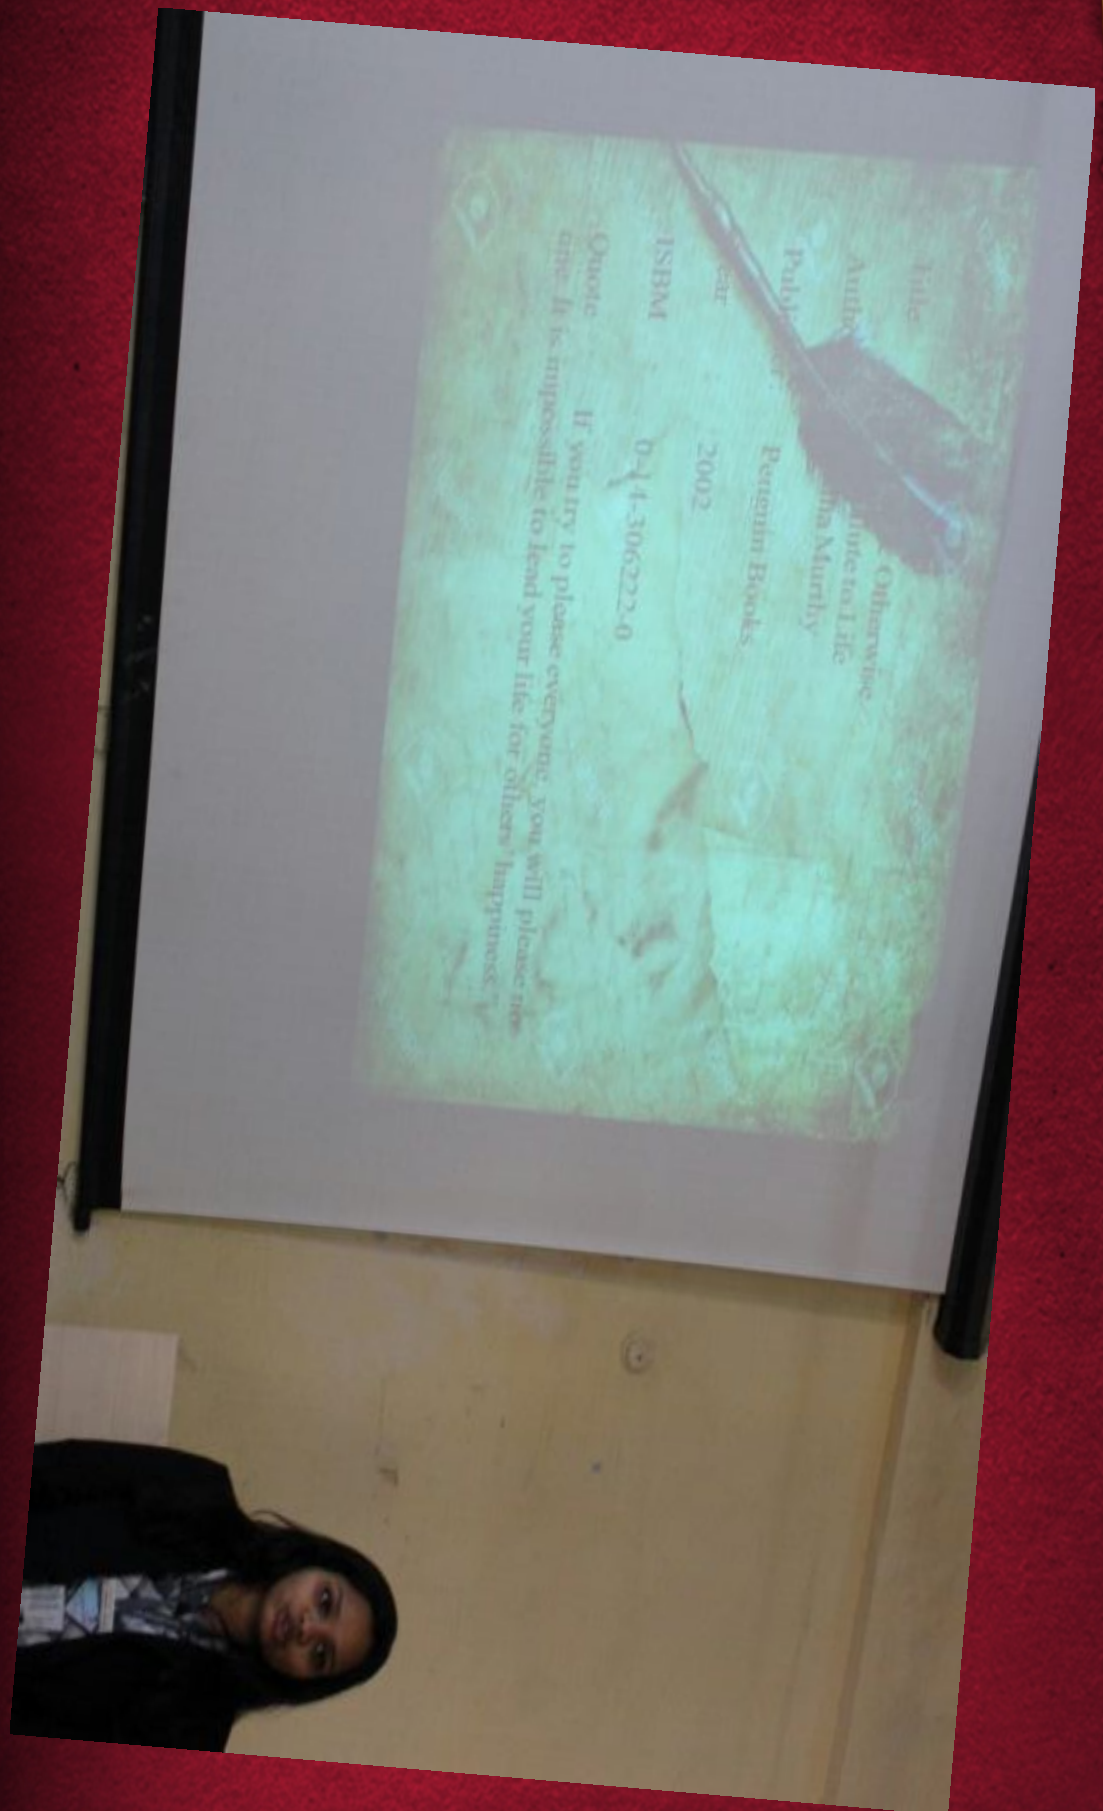

ESSAY WRITING

After a long break, the Economic Circle of the college has organized an Essay Writing for all the students on the general and most awaking topic of the era 'Demonetization - Boon or Bane.' to the economy. A very meaningful and helpful pointers were briefed on the topic to the participants before the event by the Chairperson Dr. Chitra Natarajan and Convener Prof. Bharti Sridhara.

The total presence of 35 participants was received by the circle for the event. Students were seen enthusiastic to participate in the event. An total of 60minutes was given to the participants to express their view through essay writing on the topic. The event was supervised and organized by the core members and the volunteers of the Economic Circle which was wrapped on smoothly.

Book - Review Competition

Book - Review

Once again after a short break and efforts of planning the Economic Circle had organized an Intra - Book Review Competition for all the college students on 22nd February, 2017 from 10:00am onwards at A.V Room. The event was guided and co-ordinated by the chairperson, Convener, all the Core -Committee members and also in association with the college library. The event was planned in a very efficient manner and a total of 10 participants were received for the competition .

The college library provided the students with the books they needed to review on for a period of two weeks before the competition was held . Each student participant had to show the book to the book chosen for the review to the Convener of the circle. On the day of the event many wonderful book titles were reviewed by the students.

The judge for the event was Dr. N. Rajlaxmi (principal of Nirmala College). The judges reviewed each participant book in the form of presentation and gave their comments individually to each participant. The Chairperson (Principal) Dr. Chitra Natarajan was very happy to see such a wonderful event and the books reviewed by the participants and gave a very enlighten speech “In such a superfast growing Internet world it is very wonderful moment for all on the Panel to see students sti;; reading books as their hobby”.

The winners of Essay competition were also declared by our judge. 1st prize was taken by FyBcom student Ms. Kajal. Also the winners of Book review competition were declared and 1st prize was received by Fy.Bsc.IT student Ms. Mariyam Alvi. 2nd prize was received by TYBAF student Mr. Aldron Coelho. 3rd prize was received by TYBMM Student Ms. Soniya Sonu Sunny.
