

Braille Software

NonVisual Desktop Access(NVDA) is a free and open-source, portable screen reader for Microsoft Windows. Providing feedback via synthetic speech and Braille, it enables blind or vision impaired people to access computers running Windows for no more cost than a sighted person

Chandrabhan Sharma college of Arts, Science & Commerce
Adi Shankaracharya Marg, Powai Vihar Complex, MHADA
Colony 20, Powai, Mumbai, Maharashtra 400076, India
Lat 19.116538°
Long 72.902918°
22/01/22 03:43 PM